3. Business Arising	Anti-Racism Bursary Program (L. Glandt) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- It has been 2 years since bursary program began and we have cycled through all 6 course offerings so it is a good time to check in</li> <li>- Extended the call for bursary applications the last time around because there were no applicants</li> <li>- Current bursary recipient is international and have run into some technical issues that should be resolved soon</li> <li>- L. Glandt not part of the initial bursary discussions so would like clarity on any previous discussion/decision regarding bursary applicants not finishing the course             <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- One bursary recipient did not finish the course</li> <li>- L. Glandt's teaching has associated, tangible costs as well</li> <li>- Because these courses are not for credit, unclear what specific obligations are in place</li> <li>- Do not want to rescind bursary funding from recipients</li> <li>- Given that course non-completion is a one-off occurrence, okay to accept the cost and monitor on an ongoing basis                 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The bursary is intended to be reduce barriers to access the courses for marginalized communities so Executive okay with accepting some costs to further this goal</li> </ul> </li> </ul> </li> <li>- Initial bursary template email expanded to include request to accept the bursary with the commitment to finish the course</li> <li>- Other pathways for the bursary: open up beyond distance education courses to include other offerings, such as workshops             <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Has implications for the budget</li> <li>- Originally chose the distance education courses because they are longer and more substantive than the workshops</li> </ul> </li> <li>- Noting that bursary application is left intentionally open and low barrier, but may need to add a few provisions to provide more structure to the offering</li> <li>- L. Glandt quite flexible with accommodating different student needs</li> <li>- Noting that we already prioritize new applicants for the bursary</li> </ul>
